death 3
times

PERSONAL STUDY

Read Mark 8:31-38, Mark 9:30-32 and Mark 10:32-34

OPENING REMARKS:

As we start our series on Jesus' way to the cross, according to the Gospel of Mark, keep in mind that the conversation that Jesus is having with his disciples, takes place approximately 6 months before His death on the cross.

Jesus was still attracting thousands of people, everywhere he goes. But not everyone was His follower. Some were critics and some only hoped to see miracles.

Up until now, the disciples knew nothing of the cross and the suffering that awaited Jesus. In his Gospel, Mark refers to 3 times that Jesus predicted His own suffering and death. They now had to know about Jesus's suffering and death to be ready then. Peter's declaration of faith that Jesus is the Messiah, indicated that it was a good time to begin to prepare them.

Closing remarks:

Mark's description of a resolute Jesus leading the way to Jerusalem in order to fulfill the will of God, packs some emotion. Jesus communicates the meaning of leadership as a position, a tone and a responsibility. To follow Jesus is to lead with Him, alone, courageous and realistic.

As leader of His followers, Jesus prepares them for what is about to happen. Jesus explains what is going to happen, how He is going to suffer.

The Jews were expecting a Messiah, and God's returning presence was expected to result in immense joy, glory and the restoration of the city Jerusalem. However, because of the hostility of Israel's leaders, Jerusalem became the place of Jesus' rejection and death.
